CALIFORNIA STATE MEET

When the newly formed California Interscholastic Federation organized the first State Track & Field Meet in 1915 in Fresno, it was the beginning of what is generally acclaimed as the highest quality high school competition in the nation, if not the world. For most of the history of the CIF, it has been the only statewide competition in any sport. Even to participate in the State finals has been the privilege of the few who have been able to survive up to six consecutive weeks of elimination meets, often against the top competitors in the nation.

With the exception of four years during World War II, the best male high school track athletes have competed in the statewide meet since 1915, regardless of school size, though some sections of the state did not participate at all times. Girls events were added beginning in 1974. Recently, the top 27 qualifying athletes or relay teams, who have finished among the top echelons of their respective sections have competed in the two day state finals. In early years, before 1963, fewer boys qualified for a one day State Meet.

While some publications have documented some highlights of this greatest of all high school competitions and recent state meet programs have listed the individual champions, a summary of the placing finalists has not been available to state track fans. On the following pages, an attempt has been made to summarize all the individual results of top placers in each event, as far as is known. This is the result of uncounted hours of research and compilation.

Because many of the official state records of the early years were lost in fire, the compilers have made extensive use of the "History of the C.I.F. State Track Meets 1915-1941" by Forrest William Fraasch (1972) and numerous newspaper sources, especially the Los Angeles Times. Despite this research, not all information has been obtained. The compilers welcome corrections and additions (especially missing results and first names) from any source, which may be submitted to Bill Peck, 4215 Normal Ave., Apt. 9, Los Angeles, California 90029... 110 yard & 110 meter High Hurdles

From 1915 through 1938 the hurdle height was 42 inches (same as college). Beginning in 1939 height was lowered to 39 inches (the present height). Beginning in 1980 distance was changed from 120 yards to 110 meters (very slightly shorter). Until the late 1950's, hurdles were heavy wood. e = estimated time.

100 yard & 100 meter Dash

Through 1979 the short sprint was 100 yards, but all events were converted to metric distances in 1980. Fully automatic electronic timing was introduced in 1977 (time listed in 1/100 seconds is automatic; others were hand timed). Starting blocks were first allowed in 1930. e = estimated time (from photo or eyewitness account).

200 meter & 220 yard Dash

Through 1979 the distance was 220 yards, then 200 meters thereafter. Through 1965 the 220 was usually run on a straightaway, then around a full curve since that time. Starting blocks were "encouraged" beginning in 1930. Electronic timing was introduced in 1977 (times listed in 1/100 second). e = estimated time.

400 meter & 440 yard Dash

Through 1979 race distance was 440 yards (quarter-mile), then 400 meters beginning in 1980. Until 1947 the race was generally run around one curve, with only the first straightaway in lanes. Beginning in 1948 the race was run rully in lanes, with staggered start.

800 meter & 880 yard Run

Until 1979 the race was 880 yard (half-mile), the converted to 800 meters beginning in 1980. Before 1960, the race was often run around three turns only, with a scratch start. For the last three decades the race has been run around four turns, with the first curve in lanes. e = estimated time.

3200 meter & Two mile Run

Though cross-country, at distances ranging up to two miles, had been a popular high school sport for decades, it was not until 1965 that the eight-lap race was added to the state track & field meet. In 1980 distance was changed to the nearest metric equivalent, 3200 meters.

400 meter/440 yard Relay

When the 880 relay was dropped in 1968, it was replaced by two relays. The short relay was 4 x 110 yards until 1980, when it was replaced by the metric equivalent 4 x 100 meters (approximately 0.2 or 0.3 seconds faster times than the yardage distance).

1600 meter/Mile Relay

The long relay replacing the 4 x 220 in 1968 was the traditional mile relay. In 1980, the 4 x 400 meter race replaced the 4 x 440 yard contest (times range about one second faster for the metric race). As in other races, electronic began in the late 1970's.

Triple Jump

A non-scoring exhibition of the "hop, step and jump" (as it was called in those days) was held twice as part of the state meet in the early years. In addition, it was a popular event for many years in the Central Section. But it was not until 1973 that the Triple Jump was added, as a regular event, to the state meet.

Sectional Qualifying

Since the earliest state meets, athletes qualified by virtue placing highly in their geographical sectional meets. At the beginning, the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) was divided into Northern, Southern and Central Sections. As population and the number of high schools increased dramatically, these three sections divided. Presently, there are ten CIF Sections which qualify athletes to the state meet in each event.

In these summaries of results, schools are listed by the section in which they are currently located, though particular schools may have changed sections (and others are no longer in existence) and in many cases their current section did not even exist in their years. Abbreviations for each section are listed below:

C - Central; CC - Central Coach; LA - Los Angeles; N - Northern; NC - North Coast; O - Oakland; S - Southern; SF - San Francisco; SJ - Sac-Joaquin; SD - San Diego

Long Jump

From the beginning of the California State Meet through 1962 all competition took place on one day. When the meet was extended to two days in 1963, jumpers took the preliminary round jumps on Friday (marks counted for final placings) and completed three final jumps on Saturday. Later a qualifying round (marks not counting for finals) took place on Friday; prelims & final Saturday.

Shot Put

The twelve pound shot has been a traditional event in every California State Track & Field Meet since the first one in 1915. Dirt rings were used until the late 1950's. Otherwise, rules and equipment have remained virtually the same, in contrast to most other field events.

Discus Throw

At the beginning of state competition, the international or college weight discus (two kilograms or 4 pound, 9 ounce) discus was used. This weight was used through 1950, though the event was completely abandoned for many years. In 1951, the high school weight (1.6 kilograms, or 3 pound, 9 ounce) was introduced. Through 1960, one or both weights were thrown, often as non-scoring events. In 1961, the discus (high school weight) became a scoring event.

Shot Put (16 pound)

Beginning in 1920, special awards were presented to boys who placed in competitions with college weight throwing implements, including the 16 pound shot and 2 kilogram discus. These events were most often non-scoring (exhibition) contests among those athletes who had already competed in the high school weight events.
