

Good Efforts Despite Wind

Sacramento, Calif., June 11—The same wind which has hampered efforts in the Golden West Invitational for the last couple of years blew into town again this year. But even if times were a bit slower due to the breeze, many event winners won in impressive style nonetheless.

The mile was billed as the top race with season-leader Kevin Byrne entered. But he was shocked by New Jersey neighbor Roger Jones, who turned on the speed 70 yards from home to race to victory in a personal-best 4:08.1, just 0.1 off Byrne's national leader. Kevin slowed to 4:09.3, still an easy second.

In the half mile, Texas Todd Harbour avoided the maniacal 51.0/1:20.0 pace set by Indianan Tom Martin. Instead, Harbour ran a more even pace to emerge as a 1:50.1 victor, lowering his best by more than two seconds. He won by exactly two seconds, as Martin faded to fifth.

Probably the closest race of the meet came in the highs, run into a strong wind. Andy Walker used his quick start to hold off the big closing rush of Mike Mosley, as both clocked 13.8. Mosley also placed second in the long jump, notching a PR 24-3 behind the excellent 24-10½ for Lamont King.

Wide victories were claimed by 330 hurdles winner Willie Daniels (36.9) and 440 victor Anthony Tufariello. Daniels won by a full second, while Tufariello's 10-yard margin gave him a 1.2-second edge.

Tufariello, who also placed third in the 220, was named winner of the Maree Rodebaugh Inspirational Trophy. The award was named after the GWI meet director the past two years and long-time Pacific AAU official, who was killed in a shot putting accident only two weeks earlier. A big ticket drive was held in her memory and an overflow crowd of almost 9000 fans resulted.
